Life Settlement Fiduciary

Insist on the following disclosures from life settlement brokers – they're mandated in Ohio for life settlements:

See the attached example

The bid history is especially important because it provides evidence of the broker's efforts to maximize the sale price for the seller's benefit.

An auction-style process was used to market the life insurance policy cited above. The auction was comprised solely of licensed and institutional providers and was designed to isolate the highest bidder among participants while obtaining fair market value for the policy. The auction yielded the following results:
